Filibuster Develops Into Verbal Brawl Delaying Action On Tax Bill

SEN. BRIDGES MENTIONED IN TAX HEARING

Washington, Dec. 14.—(P)—Charles Oliphant testified today that Henry W. Grunewald once told him he was helping Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) in a tax case involving another person.

Testifying before house tax investigators, Oliphant said the case involved a jeopardy tax assessment against H. H. Klein of Baltimore.

Oliphant said Bridges made some inquiries of him about the case.

Later, he said, Grunewald asked him about it and "told me he was helping Senator Bridges in this matter."

Grunewald is a somewhat mysterious man-about-Washington. His name has come repeatedly into the present hearings by the house ways and means subcommittee investigating tax irregularities. In the past, it once cropped up in connection with a senate inquiry into alleged wire-tapping. Nothing much came of the senate hearing.

Discussing the Klein tax case, Oliphant said Klein wanted to buy a round trip ticket to Bermuda but the jeopardy assessment against him made this difficult.

Oliphant, who resigned last week as chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, related that Bridges inquired about the case and said "he didn't want anything done that was not correct but they ought to be able to get together and settle their differences."

The date of this, or what interest Bridges might have indicated he had, was not immediately developed.

What resulted as to the case was not brought out.

Five-Hour Battle of Words Falls Short of Fisticuffs In Wild Session of State Senate

Harrisburg, Dec. 14.—(P)—Senate leaders struggled today to end a prolonged filibuster which has paralyzed senate law-making activity and stalled final action on a $113 million tax program. Republican leaders delayed resumption today of a Democratic filibuster which raged for five hours last night by keeping the senate in recess. The chamber went into a two-minute session shortly before noon, but Sen. John M. Walker (Allegheny), Republican floor leader, immediately called for a recess. The filibuster was started by senate Democrats in protest against a Republican plan to freeze the jobs of Quaker City employees affected by Philadelphia's city-county consolidation plan. The Democrats meanwhile were armed with piles of speech material in readiness to continue their talking marathon whenever the senate resumes sessions.

Harrisburg, Dec. 14.—(P)—It's Thursday on Friday for an embattled senate engaged today in a filibuster on Philadelphia city-county consolidation.

A five-hour battle of words just fell short of fisticuffs in the wild session in years.

At one point, Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) threatened to punch Sen. Fred P. Hare, Jr. (R-Somerset) in the nose.

The first phase of the Democratic filibuster lasted from 8:30 p. m. to 3:30 a. m. Both Republicans and Democrats then took what they termed a "10-minute recess" and by tacit agreement agreed to take up the cudgel again at 11 a. m.

Officially, the senate is still working on its Thursday calendar, using the device of turning back the senate clock.

The uproar forced a postponement of a final vote on a $113 million tax package.

And no agreement was in sight on the cause of it all—a bill to freeze hundreds of Republican county employees in their jobs under a plan to carry out consolidation of city and county governments in Philadelphia.

Sen. Samuel G. Neff (D-Beaver) described the measure as "a despicable attempt by a group of politicians to retain control of the Commonwealth's greatest city."

Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R-Phil.) defended his measure as necessary to bring about city-county unification immediately.

The verbal brawl reached its peak when Neff climbed to the senate gallery, reached over the railing and advanced the hands of the clock from a point showing 10:45 p. m. to a point showing 12:13 a. m.

His surprise action, taken after senate attendants kept the hands of the clock from reaching 12 o'clock, brought an order by Hare, who was temporarily presiding, to reset the clock to a point before midnight.

As this was done, Democrats raised the question of constitutionality of the clock-adjusting procedure.

Neff said the legislature is required to operate on Eastern Standard Time.

Hare ruled, however, that senate rules provide that a legislative session may be adjourned.

Confusion Causes Delay of Vote On Loyalty Oath Bill

Harrisburg, Dec. 14.—(P)—House efforts to iron out differences on the controversial loyalty oath bill ended today in disagreement and confusion.

Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron), a member of a bi-partisan committee set up to achieve a compromise, said only one-point of several remained to be solved. Then he added the bill would be amended and passed with bi-partisan backing in the lower chamber.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger (D-Berks), another member of the same committee promptly denied the statements and said nothing has been agreed upon.

The bill basically would require all public employees, including school teachers and candidates for public office, to take an oath stating they are not members of a subversive organization nor do not subscribe or teach subversive policies.

The bill has the backing of the state's veterans organizations and has been opposed by labor unions, teachers groups and religious groups.

Passed by the senate, the measure has been re-written by the house lawmakers at six different times. It was scheduled to come to a final vote this week but that action was delayed because of printer's errors on amendments and other difficulties.

Tompkins said the committee had decided to strike out all sections of the bill which would discharge a person presently employed in a public office on "grounds of reasonable doubt of loyalty."

TWO DIE IN PLANE CRASH NEAR MERCER

Mercer, Dec. 14.—(P)—An airplane crashed in a field nine miles north of Mercer yesterday, killing both occupants.

The dead are Donald W. Carroll, 36, of Youngstown, O., and Stanley Rudnick, 44, RD 1, Pukaski, Pa. State police said Carroll is believed to have been piloting the ship, owned by the Youngstown Flying Club. He was vice president of the club.

Cause of the crash could not be determined. The plane did not burn. Both occupants were dead when taken from the wreckage.

The victims were employed by the General Fireproofing Company at Youngstown.

Public Assistance Head Opposes Plan Proposed for Posting of Relief Rolls

Harrisburg, Dec. 14.—(P)—The secretary of public assistance has voiced pointed disapproval over a senate-passed measure requiring public posting of relief rolls.

Instead, State Assistance Secretary Eleanor G. Evans indicated she favored amending the bill to require inspection of the rolls by reliable persons.

The bill in its present form—requiring public posting of assistance rolls in county courthouses once every three months—passed the senate by a 34-9 margin last week.

Passage came over the opposition of some Democrats who sought to amend the legislation to limit the posting to names of able-bodied persons between 18 and 45.

Mrs. Evans conceded records should not be kept "as tight as at the present," but added: "I believe they should only be seen by reliable persons."

Prior to recent legislation, federal funds for state relief were withheld from any state releasing the names of persons on relief rolls. A new congressional act now leaves it up to the state whether the names are published.

"An interpretation (of the legislation) by Arthur Altmeyer, director of the Federal Security Agency," said Mrs. Evans, "indicated that State Departments should not take the initiative in opening the rolls for political or commercial use."

A breakdown of Pennsylvania's relief rolls for the last two weeks of November showed 26,203 persons receiving general assistance; 79,797 old age assistance; 125,653 in aid to dependent children; 10,301 in aid to disabled persons; and 15,497 in blind pensions.

An Assistance Department spokesman said that the public assistance visitors make periodic inspections "as regularly as the nature of the case requires."

EXTENDED FORECAST
Extended forecast for the five-day period from Saturday, December 15, through Wednesday, December 19:
Western Pennsylvania, western New York and mid-Atlantic states:
Temperatures will average eight to ten degrees below normal; quite cold throughout period; snow flurries most of the period.

REDS STALL OVER CAMP INSPECTIONS

HOLLYWOOD IS SHOCKED OVER LATEST RIFT

Beverly Hills, Calif., Dec. 14.—(P)—Before the horrified eyes of his wife, Joan Bennett, Producer Walter Wanger shot down her agent in a parking lot last night "because he broke up my home."

The greying movieproducer approached the pair as they were chatting and without saying a word fired two shots from a .38 caliber pistol at point blank range.

The agent, Jennings Lang, 39, was seriously wounded in the groin and leg and underwent surgery lasting an hour and a half. Miss Bennett said she and Lang had been together on business during the afternoon. She denied any romantic interest in him.

Wanger was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He spent the night in jail and was to be arraigned later today on a similar formal charge or one of assault with a deadly weapon.

A bullet ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's green Cadillac convertible. She was sitting in the car when the gun roared, about 5:30 p. m., in a parking lot across the street from the Beverly Hills police station.

Lang was standing by the car, talking to her. He doubled over, clutching at his abdomen.

Miss Bennett, 41—one of the movies' "glamorous grandmas" like Marlene Dietrich and Gloria Swanson—was quoted by Chief Anderson as relating:

About 2:30 p. m. she went into the nearby Music Corporation of America building to see Lang, her agent for 12 years.

They took a drive around Beverly Hills and Hollywood in his car, discussing a proposed television show for her. They returned to the parking lot about 5:20.

She and Lang got out of his car and walked over to hers. She got in, he stood beside the door. They talked a few minutes. She had turned the motor and lights on when the gun flashed and roared and she saw Wanger standing nearby.

Police said Wanger tossed the gun into his wife's car.

Chief Anderson quoted Wanger as saying he warned Lang last January, in New York, that he'd shoot anybody who might break up his home.

The hint of discord between the couple was as shocking to Hollywood as the sudden burst of gunfire.

The Wangers have two children—Stephanie, 8, and Skelley, 3.

HST PROMISES HOUSE-CLEANING—Flanked by advisor John R. Hundreds of Cars Carrying Nimrods With Antlerless Deer Licenses Invade Big Forests

Traffic flowing through Warren reached a high tempo just before daylight this morning when hundreds of carloads of hunters headed for the woods at the opening of the 1951 antlerless deer season which started at 7 a. m. today and will last until 5 p. m. Saturday.

If reports of hunters who have been out after buck since the season opened December 3 are any indication, then the antlerless herd is a large one and many kills are expected. District game protectors, too, have stated they have seen unusually large numbers of doe in the forests.

One non-resident hunter had a disappointing experience Thursday, as many hunters do, after finally killing his buck, a nice seven-pointer, on the last day of season. After gutting the animal where he killed it, in the Lottsville area, he went in search of friends to help him carry it from the woods and upon returning to the spot, found the buck gone. Having seen a certain car in the area carrying hunters who identified themselves as coming from a nearby community the hunter and his friends acted on a hunch and drove through that section. He says his buck was hanging outside a house in front of which was parked the same car, the same hunters peering out the windows of the house. He hopes to kill a doe and will remain at its side until his friends appear even if he has to wait until the Fourth of July!

Warren restaurants were filled with early breakfast customers today, some of the patrons being the same who appeared there the first day of the season. Camps are again populated, and the conditions for hunting are expected to be ideal both today and Saturday.

Game protectors, anticipating a large crowd of hunters in the woods, are urging extreme caution in the hope Warren county can end the deer season tomorrow.

Ace Mediators Take Seat at Wage Talks For Steelworkers

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—(P)—The federal government took a seat today at sensitive contract negotiations between the million-member CIO United Steelworkers union and U. S. Steel Corp., top produced of the industry.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, ordered two ace mediators to Pittsburgh yesterday after CIO President Philip Murray surprised the industry by calling union policy-makers to a meeting.

Clyde Mills, assistant chief of the U. S. Mediation Service, and Walter A. Maggioni, acting general counsel, arrived by plane too late to attend yesterday's session of company-union talks.

Mills immediately sought to spike talk of a breakdown in the negotiations.

Murray was not immediately accessible for comment on the report.

Murray set off a round of speculation when he stepped from a session Wednesday and announced union negotiators will meet with the decision-making USW executive board and the potent wage policy committee on Monday.

The wage policy committee usually is called only to ratify a strike or make a wage settlement.

Murray said before the contract talks started Nov. 27 that he would present the industry with 22 demands including a substantial wage boost, a union shop, guaranteed annual wage and improved incentive and premium pay.

The present contract expires at midnight, Dec. 31. After that steelworkers would be free to strike if a new contract has not been signed.

The government move to take a seat at the wage talks came amidst rumors that the union negotiators are becoming increasingly dissatisfied with progress.

Warren restaurants were filled with early breakfast customers today, some of the patrons being the same who appeared there the first day of the season. Camps are again populated, and the conditions for hunting are expected to be ideal both today and Saturday.

Game protectors, anticipating a large crowd of hunters in the woods, are urging extreme caution in the hope Warren county can end the deer season tomorrow.

COMMUNIST DELEGATES SAY RED CROSS EXAMINATION OF PRISONS "OUT OF QUESTION"

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 14.—(P)—The Reds flatly refused today to lift the curtain of secrecy surrounding their prison camps, but said they would okeh the rotation of 5,000 troops a month if the Allies accept other Communist terms for enforcing a Korean truce.

The limited rotation plan was part of a new six-point Communist proposal which made little impression on Allied negotiators. An official U. N. communique made no mention of rotation and said the proposal showed "little significant departure from the unacceptable proposal of Dec. 3."

In Stockholm, the Swedish foreign office said the U. S. had asked if Sweden would join a neutral inspection commission to help police a Korean truce. It said Sweden has made no decision.

Negotiators have not agreed on how an armistice would be enforced. The Allies have indicated they might accept a Communist proposal to use representatives of neutral nations for behind-the-lines inspections.

Red delegates said international Red Cross inspection of Communist prison camps was "out of the question."

They again refused to turn over lists of Allied prisoners unless the U. N. command first accepts the Communist idea of exchanging all prisoners. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby wanted to know why. He asked: "Is it because your list contains just a handful of names and you are ashamed to give it to us?"

The Reds complained the great majority of prisoners held by the U. N. would be returned if an exchange were made on a man-for-man basis as the Allies want.

A U. N. spokesman called the Communist's remark a slip.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, official Allied spokesman, said the rotation of 5,000 troops a month, as proposed by the Communists, would be well below the current American rotation level.

An Allied negotiator said the whole Red proposal will be studied carefully "for any gimmicks it might contain."

The two subcommittees working on the problems of supervising a truce and exchanging prisoners—agenda items three and four—scheduled new sessions for 11 a. m. Saturday (9 P. M. EST Friday) in Panmunjom.

Allied negotiators insisted again Friday that the Reds turn over data on prisoners they hold and permit Red Cross inspection of their prison camps before talking further of exchanging prisoners.

Three Nations Are Alerted to Stand By to Aid Armistice

Washington, Dec. 14.—(P)—The United States has alerted three nations—Sweden, Norway and Switzerland—that they may be proposed as members of "non-belligerent" inspection teams in event of an armistice in Korea.

The proposed teams would maintain a check on whether the Communists, on the one hand, and the United Nations forces, on the other, were abiding by the armistice terms.

The approach to the three nations was made through their ambassadors here yesterday by John D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state for United Nations affairs.

The state department in Washington said Norway and Switzerland also have been told they may be proposed as members of neutral inspection teams.

Hickerson, it was learned, told the ambassadors the United States would like to know whether their governments had any objections to participation on an inspection commission.

The envoys are Ambassador Erik Boheman of Sweden, Minister Charles Bruggmann of Switzerland and Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstjerne of Norway.

The three called on Hickerson separately. They were told, it was learned, that it is theoretically possible an agreement on a Korean further of exchanging prisoners.

Cleanup Statement Draws Demand From Republicans for Cabinet Dismissals

Washington, Dec. 14.—(P)—Republicans met President Truman's assertion he is taking continued action to clean up the government with demands today for cabinet dismissals, a new congressional inquiry and a 1952 election test of the issue.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) expressed doubt last night that the administration "can ever succeed in reforming itself." Taft, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, added in a Cincinnati press conference:

"Nothing President Truman can do will prevent indignation of the people at what has already occurred."

In Chicago, the administration theme was carried along in a speech by Democratic National Chairman Frank McNamery. He said that where wrongdoing exists it is being uncovered, rooted out and punished by the Democrats.

And Senator Smathers (D-Fla.) said in a statement that the country will emerge stronger and healthier from a cleanup. He said inquiries ought not to be allowed to become "entirely political and selfish."

Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) told a reporter he regarded Mr. Truman's declaration of yesterday that he has been acting continuously to keep the government clean as "telling the country there will be no cleanup."

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) announced in a statement he will introduce a resolution for an investigation of the Office of Alien Property Custodian, which he called "a channel for distribution of plums and patronage."

SUICIDES BY JUMPING IN FRONT OF AN AUTO

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—(P)—A man who police said plunged in front of an auto after trying to affect a reconciliation with his wife died today.

Patrolman James Donnelly of nearby Shaler township identified the victim as James Bryan, 30, of Cullman, Ala. The officer quoted William Brandon, 22, RD 1, Butler, Pa., as saying he had no chance to avoid hitting Bryan.

BUSINESS SKIDS

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—(P)—The University of Pittsburgh reports Pittsburgh district business skidded last week. The University business index fell 6.7 points to 198.9 per cent of the 1935-39 average. It stood at 206.6 per cent in the week ended December 1 and at 203.1 a month earlier.

Erie Substation Power Failure Causes Service Interruption in Five Counties

Although five other western Pennsylvania counties were without electricity due to a power failure at the Penelco substation in Erie, shortly after midnight today, Warren county's load was maintained and there was no interruption to service here. High voltage and high frequency prevailed in Warren for a few minutes after 12 o'clock, but the only effect was some clock stoppage.

Crawford and Venango counties were completely blacked out from midnight to 12:45 a. m., with the blackout spreading as far south as Johnstown where it lasted only a few seconds. Erie, Titusville, Bradford, Meadville, Oil City and Somerset reported complete failure and two babies were born in

Investigators Are Checking Leads In Collapse of Tank

Tucumcari, N. M., Dec. 14.—(P)—Sabotage rumors quieted today, but an explanation for yesterday's devastating water tank collapse seemed as remote as ever.

Four persons died, three were injured and two tots were orphaned in the wreckage which the 1,250,000-gallon deluge left in its wake on Main street.

Investigators have checked four leads, with these preliminary results:

Sabotage—Possible, but there is little to back it up.

Explosion—Possible, but "nothing now indicates an explosion either inside or outside the tank."

Crystallizing of steel sides of the tank—The Federal Bureau of Investigation may send samples of the ½-inch steel wreckage to its Washington laboratories for testing.

Meteor falling on or near tank—Now believed to have been a mistake by persons who believed they saw a fireball plunge to earth near the tank.

CHRISTMAS CLOSING FOR STOCK EXCHANGE

New York, Dec. 14.—(P)—The New York Stock Exchange will take a two-hour headstart on its Christmas holiday observance by closing at 1 p. m. EST, on Christmas eve, Monday, Dec. 24.

Governors at a meeting yesterday took no action on whether to close early on New Year's eve, Monday, Dec. 31. However, traders considered it unlikely there would be an early closing that day.

The Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchange will close at noon, Dec. 24, and like the New York Exchange, be closed all day Christmas.

Colder Weather and More Snow Is Promise for Warren Area Over Weekend

Colder weather and more snow are promised for Warren county over the week-end just as State Highway Department crews have succeeded in getting even the country roads into fair shape for travel.

Temperatures in the county hovered around zero from mid-evening Thursday, with a high of 28 predicted for today.

On the heels of the coldest night of the season came a special warning for Pennsylvania from the U. S. Weather Bureau at Pittsburgh, saying snow would start in

Increase Noted In Local Employment Due to Construction

According to a report released by David W. Levine, manager of the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office, Warren county firms reported advance in employment of a little more than 1 per cent. These establishments, accounting for 42 of the area's jobs, indicated net gain of 96. Primarily responsible for the higher employment total were hires by the construction category—other divisions detected very little change.

Mr. Levine noted that there are 7 more workers on the payrolls of the firms included in the study than for a year ago. Expansion of industrial concerns accounts for 5 per cent of the rise in the past twelve months.

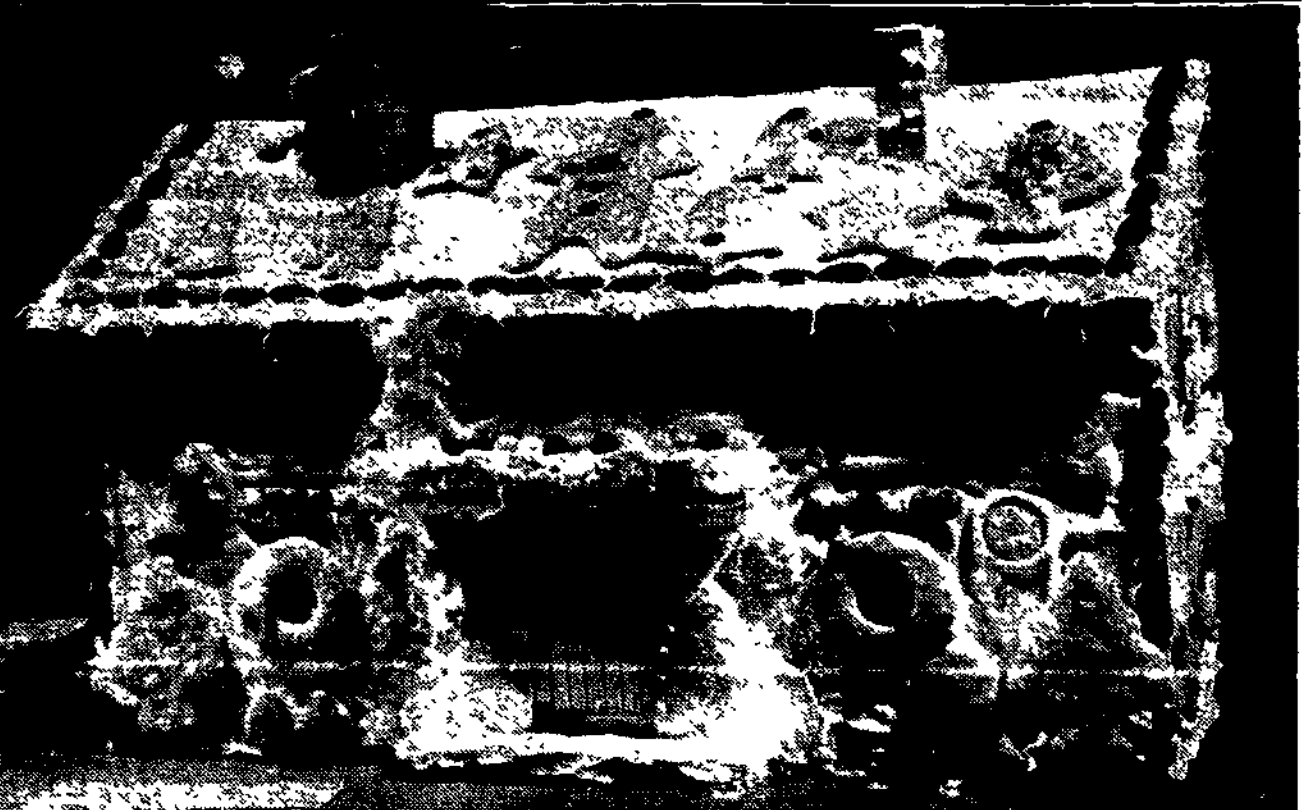

The employment official stated that during the last week in November there were 140 persons being paid for unemployment compensation compared with 92, four weeks earlier. He attributed the increase in claims to layoffs by smaller employers not included in the monthly survey. The volume of claims, however, is low when compared with similar periods for previous years. For corresponding dates during 1949 and 1950 the totals were 850 and 188, respectively.

Mr. Levine added that, other than the temporary hires for the holiday season, not much change in employment is anticipated during the next 30 days.

ANOTHER HOLIDAY HOUSE—Right out of the little book, "Holiday Recipes," being distributed to its customers by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, comes this Christmas cookie house, the work of Miss Mary Frances Lennon of Olean, the company's home service representative in this district. The little house, which is on display in the gas company office window at 117 Pennsylvania avenue, west, is made of cookies, frosting, and candies. It has attracted considerable interest from passers-by. From "Visions of Sugar Plums" to "Cute for Christmas," the book is filled with Christmas delicacy recipes.

tance. The domestic story will probably happen about the 21st of the month. This will not be a happy story—it will concern the death of the millionth traffic fatality in the United States in the last fifty years. The world important story has to happen before the 27th of this month. Will the Reds and the UN forces agree to peace terms before the 30 days allotted for the establishment of the buffer zone expire? Both these stories will happen soon. To hear about them almost as soon as they happen, WNAE and WRRN have a complete schedule of news broadcasts every day. WNAE starts out in the morning with news at 6:10, 6:30, 6:55 and 7:30 in five-minute capsules. At 8:00 in the morning there is a complete summary of world news followed by the morning edition of local news at 8:15. The 9:00 o'clock news features a complete summary of the news of the state with some world news to round out the cast. 10:00, 11:00 and 12:00 bring you more five-minute summaries of everything that goes on in the world. 12:30 features local news, world news and background news. There is a mid-afternoon newscast of world news at 3:00 with the final edition of news on WNAE at 4:10 with local news and 4:15 with news of the world. These last two news broadcasts are repeated on WRRN at 6:30 and 6:15. WRRN has the most complete news coverage, day and night, of any network station with the complete service of the Mutual Broadcasting System to bring you quick summaries and fine commentaries. Robert Hurligh is heard at 9:00 and, Ed Prentiss and Cecil Brown are heard at 10:00. Mr. Brown is a great world traveler and takes his little Minutepa wherever he goes and sends back many very interesting on the spot broadcasts. Mutual's top commentator, Fulton Lewis, Jr., is heard each week-day evening at 7:00. For news when it happens, you'll hear it first on WNAE and WRRN.

Better get one more little plug in here before too late—if you're getting a new radio for Christmas—better be sure it has FM. Remember, you've only half a radio without FM.

Youngsville Folks Enjoy Decorations

Youngsville, Dec. 14—While this community is getting its share of cold weather, ice and snow, sidewalks have been plowed and folks are enjoying the holiday decorations about town.

The official board of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening, with Rev. C. C. Ross conducting devotions and Robert Albright presiding. A number of plans for advancement of the church were considered. Among these were some alterations and improvements in the basement of the church. Christmas plans are working out and will be of special interest in the church and Sunday school services.

A mass meeting for men will be held Friday evening in which organization and various activities for men are to be considered. A pancake and sausage supper will be a feature, there will be a movie, special music and an address by Alan Templeton, Jamestown District Lay Leader from Warren.

Recent guests of Mrs. O. B. Haupin, who has been ill, have been Mrs. Leona Donaldson and Mrs. W. A. Brandt, of Barnes.

The 25th Christmas anniversary program of the Warren Association of College Women was held Wednesday evening, with 54 members present at a dinner-meeting in the North Warren community house.

After the dinner, served by the North Warren Homemakers, and the business meeting, a very successful and appropriate program was presented.

Mrs. Jeanne Lopez gave a resume of events of 25 years ago. Following this a play well known to many of the club members was presented. This play was given about 20 years ago for College Club and it was presented Wednesday night with the original cast, except for one member.

Mrs. William Wright was the director and Mrs. Gerry Archibald was stage manager and commentator. Miss Christine Hurd appeared as the mother; Mrs. Paul H. Conway, as the young daughter; H. Conway, as the young daughter; Mrs. Conrad Brunk, of Jamestown, as the married daughter; and Mrs. Margaret H. Lewis, as the young brother, substituting for Miss Doris Gamble, of Tucson, who had the original part.

At the conclusion of the play, Miss Christine Hurd gave her famous and inimitable rendition of "The Santa Claus Song".

Mrs. Coe, as December chairman, was responsible for this enjoyable program.

Much credit is due the hostess, Mrs. Lloyd Cleveland, and those of her committee who arranged the lovely table decorations. Silver candelabra, containing a total of 25 white candles, were spaced down the center of the tables. Christmas greens decorated with white and silver Christmas ornaments were used to fill in between the candelabra. White paper napkins, with "Warren College Club, 1926-1951" imprinted in silver, were provided for the occasion.

Grasshopper Oil Excitement of Half a Century Ago Recalled

GRASSHOPPER OIL FIELD

We are reminded by an article in the Evening Times August 22, 1925, of the time almost a half century ago when Warren was in the midst of one of the greatest oil booms that it has ever experienced, and perhaps the most novel oil excitement in the history of the industry.

The article recalls that some months ago a subscriber brought to this office a collection of old photos, above, printed by "Baird & Art Studio", which were sold at the time in post card form, four of which are submitted herewith.

The story says the period was known as the "Grasshopper Oil Excitement," and production area consisted of the flats district, to the north of the refineries that then existed on the East Side. It was claimed at the time that for scores of years waste oil from the refineries had been seeping into underground pools of the golden liquid, all unsuspected by anyone. The article continues:

It was while engaged in drilling a water well on the property of George Haggstrom, who resided in that section of the city, noted quantities of oil in an old tin barrel that he was using. He piped the well off, and placed a pitcher pump in operation. During the first twenty-four hours, he pumped 30 barrels of clear oil from the well, it was reported.

Residents of that section were thoroughly aroused by the find. Oil men scoffed at it, declaring that the oil would not be found anywhere else, and would soon run out. However, it is a known fact that some residents of the East Side flats district for a long time were pumping oil with their pitcher pumps.

The following article, taken from the Times of Thursday, August 24, 1905, will be of interest:

The Grasshopper oil pool on the East Side continues to attract attention and dozens are seeking for oil from the pool discovered some days ago.

The Haggstrom bathroom gusher holds up well and Haggstrom has sunk two additional wells on his lot and all are doing well. The sound of hammer on pipe being sunk into the ground resounds over the little oil field and hundreds of spectators view the operations with the greatest of interest.

The Conewango Furniture Company has two wells in operation with the regulation pitcher pumps and one half barrel is produced every hour from the two.

Clark and Henderson also have two wells and are producing about a half barrel an hour of good oil.

The Wilburine Refining Company has four wells at work and are going to put down about 20 more. The four wells are making about three barrels an hour and the oil is first class.

Radspringer, Thompson, Kidder, and Bennett have two wells and they are both producing a goodly stream of crude that is being sold at the Tiona price.

Berdine and Gibson have two strong wells and during the past two days they have produced about 75 barrels. These wells are among the strongest on the field and are fast making money for their owners.

E. C. Wolcott brought in a good well this morning and at noon it had produced about 9 barrels. S. J. and Dan Offerle have a well just in and it is doing well for a starter. Windsor, Smutz and Redecker have a good well and it is doing nicely producing a stream of 6-8 oil. They are engaged in driving more.

George Haggstrom has secured about 300 barrels since his wells started and the production is getting bigger. J. Larson had a couple of good wells and Larson is saying nothing but is working the pump. Cousins, McDonald, and Dunkle have a good well that is producing oil entirely free from water.

Offerle and Willey are engaged in putting down wells as are dozens of others including Walker and Dairymple, Salyer and Meyers, better known as the "Hien Coop Oil Company" are meeting with a success and are getting a nice flow.

Scores of wells are being put down and a lease can be secured for $10 and a small royalty. Locations for wells are being sold by the score and all that a location carries with it is the right place to sink a pipe.

It is now reported that the oil is being found on the other side of the river opposite this strike and a number are striking wells there.

DEADLINE REMINDER FOR SHRINE PARTY

Warren County Shrine Club members are reminded tomorrow is the deadline for making reservations if they wish to attend the annual meeting planned for next Wednesday evening, December 19, at the Marconi Outing Club.

The affair will get under way with dinner served at seven o'clock, after which the business session, will include yearly reports and election of directors for the coming year. Members are reminded to bring along their "musk" coupon.

Special entertainment to round out the evening will include a floor show and it is anticipated there will be a large attendance.

Local' Brotherhood Has Varied Program

The December meeting of St. Paul's Brotherhood, held last evening, presented vividly the choice of two distinctly opposite solutions of the world's present tragic conditions.

Hilmar Roos, conducting devotions, read the beautiful Christ Story as it appears in Luke's Gospel. This, together with the singing of Christmas hymns, presented the Divine Plan for Mankind.

The tragedy of the opposite plan, when discord and selfishness prevail, was graphically depicted in the hundreds of pictures Lt. Nore Gustafson took during the more than 200 missions flown in Japan, Korea, Formosa, Okinawa, and the Philippines.

Lt. Gustafson has done an outstanding job in taking and assembling hundreds of pictures covering practically this entire critical area and it is hoped many others will be given the opportunity of viewing these graphic scenes and realizing the tragedy wrought when selfishness and hate prevail.

Hosts for the meeting were Harold Nelson, Ludwig Peterson, Edward Munson and Mr. Vaughn.

Bernard Engelhart, AMM 2/C, USN, has arrived home to spend a 14-day leave with his mother, Mrs. John C. Lawson, Stoneysone. He is stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill.

THE ANNUNCIATION

By Derrick Bouts, 15th Century artist. National Gallery of Arts

The angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth.

To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and case in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favor with God.

And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: And the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David:

And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: Therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

The Changing Landscapes

By RALPH G. ECKERT

Friday, Dec. 14, 1951

Hello folks: Well, it looks as though "Old Man Winter" stopped playing around and really got down to business. If this is to be any indication of what is to follow, a white Christmas is definitely assured.

The SCS helped Donald Greene complete the conservation survey for his Clendenning Corners farm. He has some poorly drained soils which will require drainage if the best production is to be obtained.

John Michael, Sanford Corners farmer, completed his conservation farm plan with the help of the SCS. He plans on a large amount of pasture improvement along with the planting of Multiflora Rose fence. Permanent hay is to be established on the steeper fields. The maximum erosion control will be secured by having these areas in a permanent vegetation.

The conservation survey was completed on Fred Palmer's farm on the Garland-Torpedo road. Drainage is his big problem as the survey showed poorly drained soils are present.

Grassland farming is the basis of the conservation farm plan completed by Joseph Franko, with the help of the SCS, on his Cole Hill farm. He has some wet spots in the lower part of one of his fields. A diversion terrace is planned above these wet areas to pick up this excess water and remove it from the field before it causes him trouble. Joseph also plans to clear off some of his woodland to increase his acreage of pasture. The land being cleared has only a growth of small trees and is practically level. A good pasture growth can be established without having the soil wash away while the ground is being worked up.

Leon Spink, farmer on Priest Hollow Road, assisted by the SCS, completed his conservation farm plan. He is now raising cash crops and plans to combine this with raising chickens. Drainage is also planned for parts of his farm to facilitate better crop production.

See you all next week.

WPL REPORTING

Now comes the time of year when almost every home has in its living room or dining room a card table covered with gay wrapping paper, ribbons and Christmas seals. It's natural, of course, that children think most about receiving of gifts; but, as we add years to our age, most of us add an appreciation for the fun of giving, of seeing the face of someone else alight with pleasure.

We hope that those who have given to the Warren Public Library Memorial Collection experience something of that pleasure and satisfaction—not only at Christmas time, but all year round. It would be nice if every donor could see the faces of some of the people who come in to the library and pick up an expensive art book or an unusual book of philosophy or biography—and hear them say, "May I take this out now? I never dreamed you'd have it!"

And we wouldn't have had it, either, without our Memorial Collection. Here are some recent additions to it:

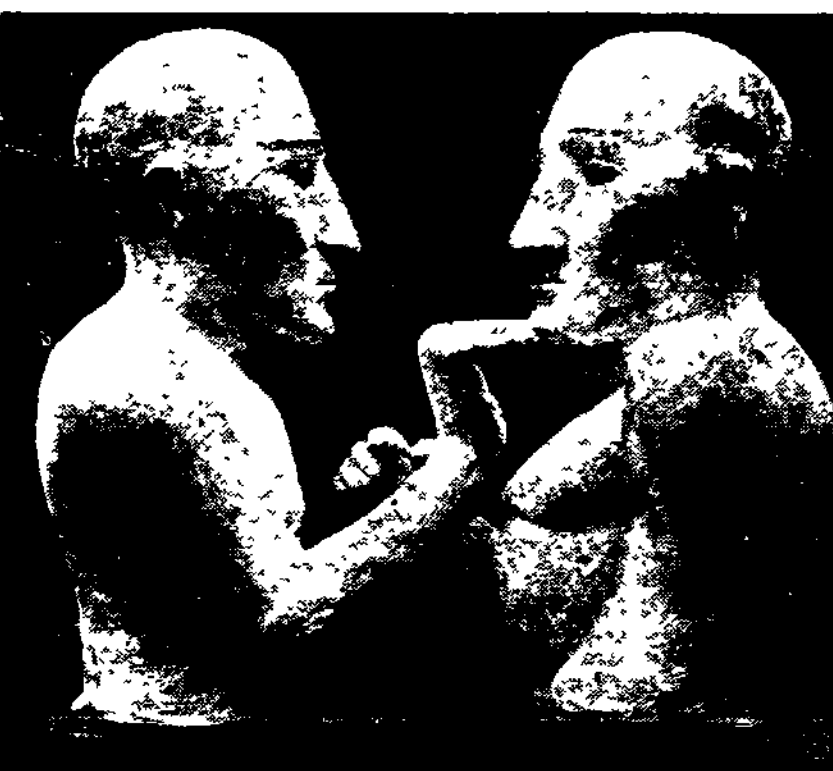

For Mable H. Abbott—"Children of the Archbishop," by Collins.

For Santo Castagnino—"Fujio," by Creekmere; "Round Meadow," by Oldrin; "Fullback for Sale," by Scholz; "Mystery of the Alpine Castle," by Evatt; "Sacramento Sam," by Moore; "Rusty at Ram's Horn Ranch," by Garst; "Tools for Andy," by Tippet; "Ranch for Danny," by Bulla; "Jim Thorpe Story," by Schorr; "Nick's Football Team," by Renick; "Leif Eriksson," by Shippen; "Our FBI," by Floherty; "Double Play," by Harkins; "Johnny Wants to Be a Policeman," by Granberg; "Little Vic," by Gates; "Down the Road With Johnny," by Smith; "Nine Tales of Raven," by Martin; "Fast Man on a Pivot," by Decker; "Just Like David," by De Angel; "Silver Heels," by Brown; "Marble Fountain," by Angelo; "Sea Hunters," by Blecker; "Charlie Bronco," by Laram; "Aircraft U.S.A.," by Huntington.

For J. Richard Check—"The Way of the Free," by Osusky.

For Alice M. Clawson—"English Country Homes Open to the Public," by Hussey.
For Dr. Harry F. Clawson—"Radio Handbook," by Dawley; "Rockets, Missiles and Space Travel," by Ley.

There will also be a special Christmas service and offertory by Eleanor Swanson, organist, and the choir will have an anthem. Kay Hutchins will be the leader for the Youth Fellowship at 7:15 and Mrs. Hazel Merenick will be the sponsor. Other events announced are the Martha Society party at 6:30 p. m. Monday; a Christmas party by the Emanuel Club for the church school at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, when Santa Claus will pay a visit.

YOUNGVILLE EUB
"Christ, the Incarnate Word" will be Rev. Harold V. Landquist's sermon theme at 11:00 a. m. Sunday in Youngville EUB church. E. C. Fredrick will conduct the senior choir in "Come and Worship" by Lorenz and the intermediate choir will sing the children's anthem. At 7:30 p. m., the senior choir will sing the Christmas song, "Thou Didst Leave Thy Throne" by Matthews. The song service will be made up of carols and the pastor will have as his topic "Have You Seen the Babe?" Events for the coming week include the church school Christmas program at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, when the offering for the Quincy Orphanage and Home will be received. Choir rehearsals are for the seniors.

GRACE METHODIST
"A Day of Good Tidings" is the topic announced by Rev. C. W. Baldwin for the 11 o'clock worship in Grace church. The Sanctuary Choir, directed by Mrs. Edwin Jack, will sing two anthems, "Hark, What Mean Those Holy Voices" by Turner-Waley and "As the Snow Flakes Gently Fall" by Luvaas. Church school convenes at 10 a. m., with the Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p. m. At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will speak on "How Mature Are You?" and Ladies' chorus will bring special music. The Christmas carol and candle-lighting service will be held Sunday evening, December 23, at 7:30 p. m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Everett Borg, baritone, will sing from "The Messiah" by Handel, "But Who May Abide," and for the offertory anthem the senior choir, with Violet Borg as soloist, will sing from "The Messiah" "O Thou That Tellest." Carroll Fowler at the organ will play "All Depends on God's Blessing" and "Rejoice, Greatly O My Soul" by Karg-Elert and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" by Binghman. Church school will convene at 10:15 and the nursery will continue during the morning service. Junior and Senior Westminster Fellowships will meet at 6:30.

LANDER METHODIST
In the Advent service at 11:00 a. m. Sunday in Lander Methodist church, Rev. Gustav Erickson will speak on "The Herald of the King" and there will be special music by the church choir. At 7:30 p. m., the young people of the church will conduct a candlelight service, "The Christmas Light in Music and Word." Many of the familiar Christmas carols will be used in this service, which will be followed by a social hour and refreshments in the gymnasium.

Food Prices Hold Fairly Steady No Notable Changes, Up or Down

By The Associated Press

Food prices held fairly steady this week, with no notable changes either up or down. Pork chops, chops and hams were reduced one to four cents and in many places to head-fore's lists of week-end spe-

After climbed one to two cents and, continuing the seasonal trend that began weeks ago, prices turned irregular af-roping about 14 cents a doz- in the two weeks following Thanksgiving Day. That price was blamed chiefly on warm-her which stimulated produc- a seasonal decline in hatch-operations and a sag in de- after Thanksgiving.

The price drop was sharper than it should have been for the market conditions involved," said a spokesman for the authoritative market reporting firm of Upper- Barry Co. in New York. "Demand picked up briskly when prices hit their low last week, and then wholesale prices bounced up three to seven cents—too much—as job-ber's replaced supplies. Retail prices as a whole reacted to a lesser extent and probably will level off just about where they are now, and stay there until after Christ- mas."

The agriculture department says December usually sees the start of the seasonal upswing in egg pro- duction which normally hits a peak the following April. Output last month amounted to 4,215 mil- lion eggs, compared with 3,977 mil- lion the same month last year.

Prices of several fresh produce items eased slightly this week. Snap beans, brussels sprouts, cau- liflower, cucumbers, eggplant, let- tuce, peppers, spinach and most citrus fruits were lower. Lettuce and peppers were still unusually high-priced because of tight ship- ments.

Cranberries also were relatively high. Produce men said overall supplies of cranberries appeared to be exceptionally small by compar- ison with other years.

Higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, lamb and eggs were blamed for pushing the government's retail food index to a new record high between November 15 and 26. The index for the eight cities surveyed was up about 2.6 per cent from the previous month and 15 per cent above the average just before the Korean war began.

The agriculture department re- ported that meat produced under federal inspection last week reach- ed a new peak for the year at 410 million pounds—10 million over the previous weekly record set last autumn. Pork output was the largest since 1944 when the pig- gest pig crop in our history was being marketed.

Price stabilizers hope to have dollars-and-cents ceiling prices es- tablished on retail lamb and veal by Jan. 1, and on pork shortly af- terward. Wholesale ceilings al- ready are in effect on all these and beef, and retail ceilings on beef have been in effect for some time. Officials of the Office of Price Sta- bilization said they don't expect much change from present prices in setting the veal, lamb and pork ceilings.

Oranges are featured by the ag- riculture department this week as the most plentiful food for thrifty buying. Production of oranges and tangerines as of Dec. 1 was esti- mated at 122,325,000 boxes, com- pared with 121,610,000 last year and the 1940-49 average of 102- 986,000 boxes. Total consumption of oranges this year is expected to be about 10 per cent larger than in 1950.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking. Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one. And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over. You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out. But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time. From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for. Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know. He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way? He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble. It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right. Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experi- mental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that. Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve. To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty. Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be. Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

Here's How To Do Right In Choosing Of Hosiery Presents

Christmas time means giving stockings as well as hanging them. And with the many different type of stockings a'foot, the guy who's choosing hosiery as a gift for his favorite gal, will have a pretty bewildering time of it unless he knows what goes for hose. To blend with a lady's "after five" fashions, there are gossamer hose. These are usually 51 gauge 15 denier (the gauge means the fineness of the knit, the denier means the thickness of the thread) or for extra special occasions there is a misty 60 gauge 15 den-ier. Especially for hours behind a desk, a service weight (just ask the saleswoman for this) is pre-ferable. A man can be color correct if he gives a varied box of hose holding lightest sunny beige hose for re-sort year and winter wool pastels, and also a few pair in a mellow nut brown to blend with this season's color favorite. . . brown. If he wants to be "different" . . . he can choose the navies and greyish taupes. If a gentleman knows the lady appreciates a dash of drama in her apparel, he can choose stock-ings that enhance the leg with lacy framed heels and flocked or hand painted designs at the ankle. Tiny fans, dainty hearts, notes of music, even clusters of rhinestones decorate hosiery of this type. And if the woman in question is fond of hiking and outdoor sports, she'd welcome, by all means, a few bright pair of wool anklets or knee socks.

CLOSE CALL—Sgt. Robert F. Joyner, left, of Baltimore, Md., surveys battle damage suffered by a U. S. Air Force F-80 Shooting Star. The damage was inflicted by an enemy 40-mm. anti-aircraft shell when 1st Lt. James S. White, of Bellwood, Ill., right, made a dive-bombing attack on a Communist-held railroad near Wonsan, Korea. (U. S. Air Force photo from NEA-Acme Telephoto)

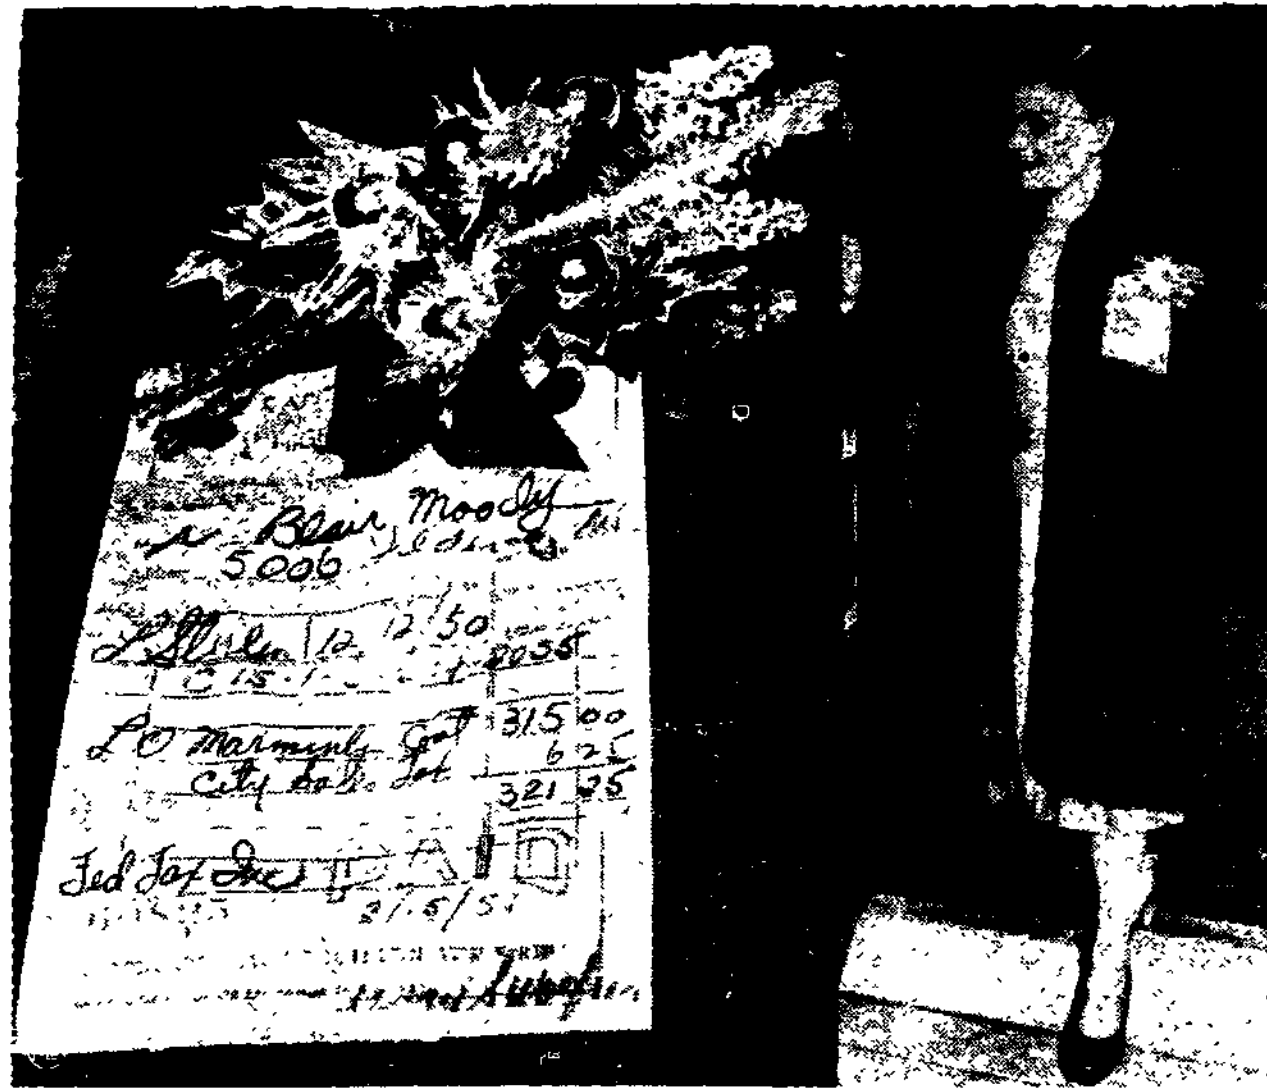

TWISTER HITS ILLINOIS TOWN—One man was killed, one critically injured in Spring Valley, Ill., when a tornado, smashing into the town through a ravine, churned through the community of 7000, levelling two railroad stations, one of which is shown above, smashing two private homes, de-roofing three others. This demolished depot belongs to the C. B. & Q. railroad.

ARMY LOOKS TO ITS PRICE TAGS—The Army, in trying to impress the soldier with the high cost of military equipment, is going to put price tags on all issued supplies. Above Newschart shows what prices G. J. Joe will see on his arms and equipment. The measure was introduced by the Senate War Investigating Committee as means of dramatizing and cutting military waste.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

RARE TYPE OF MINK—At left is a closeup view of the bill of sale for a coat that Mrs. Blair Moody wears at all public gatherings. Mrs. Moody, wife of the junior senator from Michigan, says she doesn't care to be caught in the capital's mink-coat tempest. The slip shows the coat was purchased Mar. 15, 1951, more than a month before her husband took office. It shows also that she paid $331.23, including taxes, to a Washington D. C. furrier. As the price indicates, it's not genuine mink, but marmink. At right, Mrs. Moody leaves her hotel wearing the corsage-sales slip prominently displayed.

PRESS IS FREE—TO STAY OUT—Army Quartermaster General George A. Horkan, second from left, planned a press conference in the Chicago Club. But he had to hold it outside on the sidewalk when the club refused to allow newspapermen inside its exclusive portals. With General Horkan are, left to right, Col. C. F. Kearney; Randall H. Cooper, president of the State Street Council; Reporter John Hayes, Chicago Daily News; Capt. James McKay, Chicago QM depot; Tim Canty, United Press reporter, and Joel Goldblatt, a State Street merchant.

MANHUNT!—One of the greatest manhunts in the history of American crime is going on for a desperate, wounded and dope-crazed man who allegedly killed a Cleveland, O., police officer Dec. 8. George Ross, who eluded police in Ellicott City, Md., after a gun battle shortly before midnight Dec. 11, is being sought in Maryland woods some eight miles west of Baltimore. Some 200 men, including about 100 FBI agents, aided by light planes and helicopters, are covering the territory in which Ross is believed to be hiding. Above, an unidentified State Trooper uses a bloodhound to aid in the search.

"ANGEL" IN THE WINGS—Taking time out from her role as an angel in a production of "Christmas Through the Ages," little Loretta Young, 4, gets in a few licks as a stage hand. The all-girl show, featuring four-and-five-year olds, is being produced by the Children's Aid Society center in New York City.

INTERROGATION—A Communist guerrilla, right, kneels while being questioned after his capture in the village of Namwon in Korea's Chiri mountains. He is just one of several captured by ROK troops during the first siege of the guerrilla offensive, "Operation Rathole." (Exclusive NEA-Acme Telephoto by Staff Photographer Hisao Egoshi.)

TOPS ALL—Sgt. Ben Elliott of Philadelphia, Pa., wounded veteran of the Korean fighting and now a patient at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., created his own fancy bonnet in an amateur hat-designing contest. G.I. patients at the hospital held a fashion show to display their creations. The contest was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Jewish War Veterans.

RESIGNS—Chief counsel of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Charles Oliphant, above, has resigned with an angry protest against House investigators for airing "fantastic" charges that he participated in a $500,000 tax case shakedown.

DEFENDS BUSINESS ETHICS—Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney shows newsmen a copy of the New York Herald-Tribune with front page story of a deal in which he was alleged to have made $74,000 on a $1000 investment in a now bankrupt firm. McKinney said the profit was about $68,000 on stock held less than a year in the Empire Tractor Co. of Philadelphia, and that there was "nothing unethical" about the transaction—he had "made others that were more lucrative than this."

without a single hunting accident for 1951.

Harrisburg, Dec. 14—(P)—An estimated 225,000 hunters tramped through the woods in search of doe today on the opening of Pennsylvania's two-day antlerless deer season.

One to six inches of snow in much of the northern deer territory made for good tracking. The weather bureau meanwhile predicted freezing weather and snow flurries today and tomorrow. The two-day season on antlerless deer closes tomorrow at 5 p. m.

Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the Game Commission, said thousands of applications for licenses had to be turned down.

Hunters were warned by the State Game Commission they must display the special $1.10 doe permit in addition to the regular hunting license. The doe permit must be issued for the county in which its possessor is hunting.

Grace Church Class Solicits Gifts For A Family of Twelve

In a rural section of Warren county there is one family from which no member is making a visit to well-stocked Warren stores to buy Christmas gifts.

The family consists of 12 persons, 10 children in addition to the parents, and while the father is able to work, his wages are hardly adequate to keep his brood warm and to provide just enough staple food to go around. Because he is working and able to provide a livelihood for the large family, the Department of Welfare finds itself unable to provide assistance. Toys for the younger children will be gratefully accepted.

The worthiness of this family having been investigated, members of the Clemens Class of Grace Methodist church are undertaking a drive to provide needed clothing and food and members are asked to bring whatever they can in the way of used clothing and non-perishable foods to the class, Sunday morning. The ages of the girls in the family are 11, 12, 13 and 17, while the boys are 6, 8, 9, 10, 15 and 16. Bedding also is needed.

Members of the Clemens Class also solicit outside aid and will appreciate having articles left at the church, Sunday morning, or at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wyman, 4 Myrtle street, who is chairman.

Five-Hour Battle of Words Falls Short of Fisticuffs day does not end until the senate adjourns for that day. Republicans beat Coyns' 28-17, a Democratic appeal of the ruling.

At this point, Barr sprang from his senate seat, rushed to the rostrum and shouted to Hare: "In five more minutes, I'm going to punch you in the nose."

Hare ignored the remark. But later as senatorial tempers continued at high pitch, he sternly admonished:

"The senate will be in order. Senators, conduct yourselves as senators."

By that time, a squad of four capitol policemen appeared in the senate foyer.

Across the capitol rotunda, the house also met in midnight session but in an atmosphere of impeccable legislative decorum. It ran over a handful of secondary legislation and adjourned until Monday. Only about 10 assemblymen turned up for the late session.

Earlier, the house decided to put off until Monday a vote on a long-disputed bill requiring loyalty oaths from public employes in Pennsylvania.

The Philadelphia Consolidation bill ranked with congressional re-apportionment as the big stumbling blocks that may wreck plans for a December 22 adjournment deadline fixed by the lawmakers.

Senate Republicans, argued, behind closed doors for two hours yesterday without reaching agreement on any plan to reduce the congressional delegation from 33 to 30 to meet population changes.

He demonstrated with the hand shown today, which I promptly swiped for advanced students of this column.

West leads the jack of spades, dummy plays the queen, and East wins with the ace. East returns a spade, and South wins with the king.

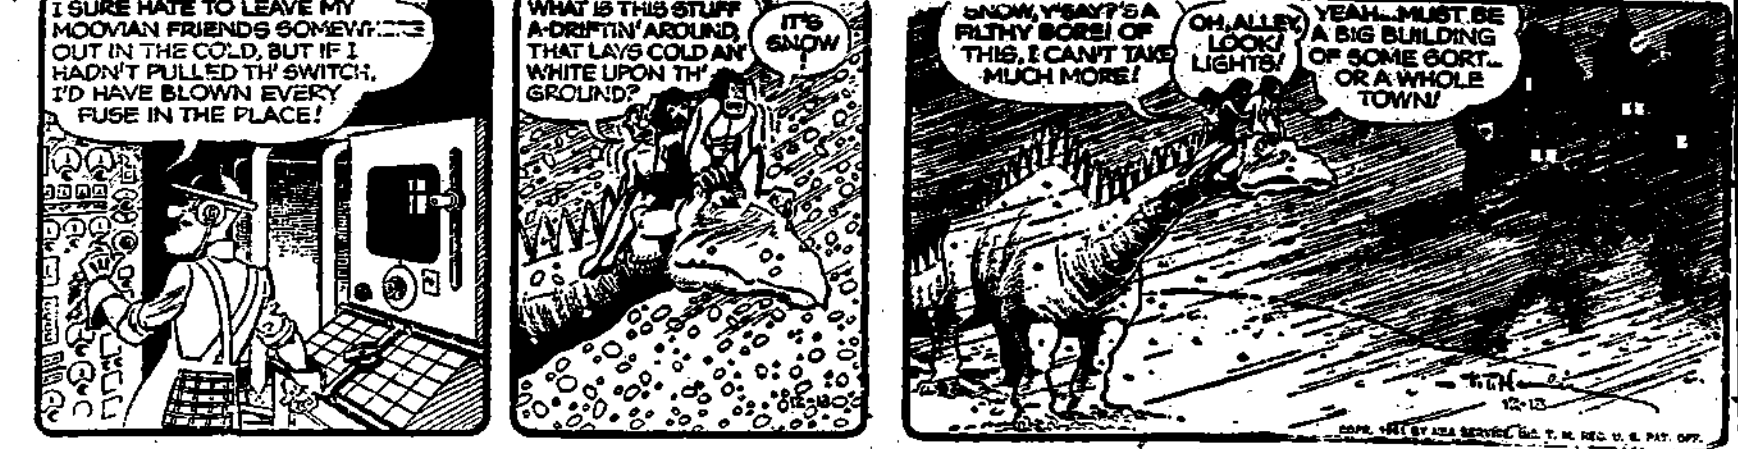

At this point South is in position to ruff his last spade in dummy—but he must not do so. As Pete Leventritt pointed out, the ruff will not run away; and it will be more valuable later on than at this stage.

South continues, instead, by drawing two rounds of trump with the ace and king. Next he takes

Warren High to Meet Erie East Here Tonight

FRESH FROM VICTORY OVER OIL CITY, VISITORS OFFER FORMIDABLE OPPOSITION

Rubbing out the sting of a 52-31 setback when they were struck by the fangs of the Jamestown Red Raiders last Tuesday night, the Warren High Dragons are now ready for their 23rd meeting with a powerful Erie East quintet, at Beatty High tonight.

The game will get underway earlier than usual, at 8 o'clock, and the preliminary between the juniors and sophs will start at 7.

The Massmen will be seeking win number two over the East Highers in their fourth try of the season, and it will be their second meeting since the conclusion of a continuous rivalry that lasted from 1921 to 1931. In the 22 meetings Erie holds the advantage with 16 wins to six losses. The locals were victorious, 40-27, in the 1948-49 clash.

With Bob Harrington and Bernie Gray in the forward berths, Ron Isaacson in the pivot, and Ricky Scallie and Jon Pearson out starters, the Dragon combination will be meeting its strongest opposition yet this season.

Earlier this week, the East cagers knocked off the Oilers, 55-51, in a tilt at Oil City, and boasted a high scoring trio that netted 47 of the team's 55 point total.

Melvin Laskoff, five-foot-eight sophomore, tallied 21 of East's points alone against the Oilers and already is being rated as one of the finest players in the area in years. In addition to his terrific offensive attack, he is good on defense and works well under the boards. He will need close watching by the Massmen.

Another starter on the Erie squad is Lee Cabelof, a forward, who racked up all 15 of his points against Oil City in the last half, with little trouble. Coach Bob Arrowsmith's other first-five men are likely to be Quinn at center, and Harrington and Watral at the guard posts.

New York, Dec. 14.—The conservative Eastern College Athletic Conference will be asked today to go one step further than the committee of college presidents who are opposed to football bowl games.
A special ECAC committee on the improvement of intercollegiate athletics will ask not only disapproval of bowl and other post-season games not controlled and operated by collegiate organizations but it will propose a re-evaluation of the entire NCAA championship program.
This proposal, in line with the recent Big Seven conference ban on all post-season competition, is part of a seven-point program to be offered at the ECAC annual meeting by a committee appointed September 6 to study the entire intercollegiate athletic picture.
The improvement committee report and another by a committee studying television are expected to provoke some heated debate and objections among the representatives of 89 eastern colleges which make up the conference.
While the television committee has given no indication what its recommendations will be, it is expected to favor continued restrictions. The University of Pennsylvania will offer a separate resolution calling for the elimination of all TV restrictions.
In addition to coming out strongly against post-season competition, the improvement committee, headed by William H. McCarter of Dartmouth, also will call for a change in the football substitution rule; a study of practices in all sports in regard to length of seasons, number of games, etc., and for restrictions of some sort on out-of-season practices. It also proposes a change in the eligibility rule and a general tightening-up of observance of existing rules on recruiting and financial aid.

Twins in 1918 Warren Handed Erie Surprise

By The Sports Ed

While looking through the record books of the Dragons with J. B. Leidig at the high school yesterday afternoon, he recalled a game with Erie in 1918 that he says was one of the finest played on the high school floor. The contest was set as a benefit and Erie (which had only one high school at that time) was favored to at least double the score on the locals. But it didn't go that way at all and the Blue and White cagers won, 28-27, for a successful season record of 10 and 3. Playing on the team at that time were Harry "Connie" Conroy, Albert "Slewfoot" or "Butt" Knopf, Art Ostergard, Myer Kornreich, Carl Jacobson, John Berdine and Lloyd Smith. That same season this crew racked up 105 points to Titusville's 30, which in our record books, is the highest ever scored in a Warren High game.

Through The Wind Tunnel

If it was spring we could understand this one, but it's winter out and we are puzzled. A young miss at the YWCA had a dollar bill and wished to purchase a five-cent candy bar. Here is the story from there. The girls at the desk accepted the bill, opened the safe and exchanged it for a dollar's worth of change, gave the girl the full amount, then took the candy bar and locked it in the safe. Well, at least nobody lost on the deal.

Pittsburgh Pirates baseball fans are receiving their copies of the holiday issue of "Pirate Pickings", published by the Pittsburgh Baseball Club.

Homer Barr, now coaching wrestling in Warren, was captain of Penn State's Eastern championship wrestling team last year. This season's captain will be Don Maurey, Eastern 137-pound champion last year, who also hails from Barr's home town of Clearfield.

Mother Nature has stepped in to add her own personal touch to the beautiful Christmas picture presented by "The Little White House on the Corner" of Liberty and Third. Real, old-fashioned slanting icicles now hang from the roof, with the colored lights shining through.

Jovial old Santa, cooling off on the roof, looks as though he could stand a cup of coffee now and then.

The boys did a good job of it, Wednesday night, according to Sam. They took baseball, football, basketball, boxing and wrestling all to pieces and then mended them together again before curfew sounded.

Joe Gardner has brought us an interesting book entitled "Fifty Years of the Baseball War Between Franklin and Oil City" (with an added chapter on the Franklin world's championship football team of 1904). This book was published in 1919 and we were surprised to read therein that one of its editors was our good old friend, the late James R. Borland.

The story goes back as far as the real start of baseball in Franklin when Capt. Robert H. Woodburn came home from the Civil War and organized the old Venango Baseball Club. Then, not to be outdone by Franklin, Tom McLaughlin, Dick Redfield and John A. Wiley organized the Seneca team in Oil City. A Warren club seems to enter the picture for the first time in 1883 when the Franklin team defeated Warren, 5-3. The Warren line-up included "Louie" Bierbauer, afterward a star with the Philadelphia Athletics and the following: Johnson, O'Brien, Shoemaker, Morrison, Gallagher, Ward, Corcoran and Parsons. The Warren club was backed by George C. Priestly.

Dr. William R. Smith has written interestingly about the famous Franklin team of 1904 which was under the management of Dave Printz, who died about 12 years ago and who was the younger brother of the late Aaron Printz.

No Bowl Games And Re-Evaluation Will Be League Request

New York, Dec. 14.—The conservative Eastern College Athletic Conference will be asked today to go one step further than the committee of college presidents who are opposed to football bowl games.

A special ECAC committee on the improvement of intercollegiate athletics will ask not only disapproval of bowl and other post-season games not controlled and operated by collegiate organizations but it will propose a re-evaluation of the entire NCAA championship program.

Rockets and Style Shop Win In YMCA-City League; Games Better Than Scores Indicate

Rocket floormen succeeded in starting a winning streak in the YMCA-City Basketball League last night by defeating the winless Youngsville Wiggers five, 56-42, while the Style Shop nipped Paul's Atlantic, 51-43, to go into a two-way tie with Warren Business School for second place.

Jim Peterson, towering Rocket pivotman, hooked the rim for 20 points in the contest to steal the night's laurels and keep his team out in front in every count. John Berardi played a close second by swishing 16 counters, Bill Pollard leading the Youngsville team with a similar number.

The victors pulled a 12-3 lead in the first quarter and by intermission had climbed to a nine point margin. Third-period scoring was low, favoring the Rockets 8-6, and then both teams turned on the heat with 22-19 shooting.

Taking a seven point half-way advantage over Atlantic, the Styl-ists had their lead chopped to five marks going into the fourth stanza and had a big scare thrown at them before the final bell sounded.

Mid-way in the period, the Atlantic cagers closed in on the Style Shop, Dick Knight and Paul Smith each contributing two twin-counters and Frisina a free toss to make the scoreboard read 39-38, in favor of the winners.

The lanky Bob Simpson hooked one, and Dan Jackson and Jack White each popped one to follow him up and put the Style Shop safely ahead once more where they remained.

Dragon Wrestlers Show Good Promise In Initial Matches

Warren High wrestlers showed promise of a successful season ahead in their intra-squad matches at Beatty Gym last night, when a medium-sized crowd was on hand to watch the grunt and groaner open their fourth year of grappling under their new coach, Homer Barr.

In the preliminary bouts, the Red and Green teams tied, 16-16, while the Reds took the Greens over the coals, 43-12, in the main attraction.

To get the new fans better acquainted with the sport, Bob Jewell, former Warren High wrestling mentor, explained the methods of scoring over the PA system as the preliminary bouts progressed.

Don Mimm and Clark Wright, both two-year lettermen, pinned their men in the first period of their bouts in 26 seconds and 1:06 respectively. Lettermen Denny Brown, Glenn Cook and Carl Nelson also put their opponents' shoulders to the mat before their bouts ended.

Each boy has plenty of competition in his own class weight this year, so a well-conditioned team is expected to present itself when the locals take on the Titusville matmen in their first meet of the season at Warren, January 3.

Officials for the contests were Bill Oelslager
